

About Zundati

Zundati, Inc. has assembled an experienced leadership team, cultivated strong client relationships and selected a suite of services to establish viable business process solutions in East Africa. Zundati International, Ltd, the production arm of the company, was established in Uganda in 2006. We have the management and technical talent necessary to support and complete client projects in a timely and cost competitive manner.

Approach

We are passionate about our clients' business. Our talented team has built a network of resources that ensure seamless execution and project implementation in accordance with client expectations. We know that our success is inextricably tied to understanding how our clients work and being flexible enough to help them strengthen and grow their bottom line.

Zundati is also dedicated to the development and economic growth of Africa through creating opportunity for its talented workforce. We have partnered with exceptional professionals and entrepreneurs, and leveraged our relationships and experience to build a company that will transform local communities.
